But evidence shows that outside competition has undercut Mat Maid's ability to continue the way it has been operating. The Board of Agriculture's request provides the time it wants for corporate planning - whether that means greater solvency or closing its doors.

> In 2003, APOC requested funding to only handle the Campaign Disclosure information electronically. When I was appointed and reviewing APOC's request for $350,000 of additional money for this year, I asked for a status update on the previous appropriation. Basically, there's little to show for it. We will aggressively manage this project if the funding is maintained in the budget. It needs to be done, I know you want it done so that the public can see who contributes to whom and "follow the money."
> The current system will not survive another election year, and it's an imperfect system that only addresses one piece of the reporting requirements. If the system is not updated, APOC will revert to a paper-only agency. Information currently available to users on the APOC WebPages would not be updated. This would not be in keeping with your philosophy of open government.

In many cases the quality of the handwriting is very poor, so each page takes longer to enter. In an election year, Brooke Miles, APOC Executive Director, estimates that 65% of the personal services resources of APOC ($660.4 FY 07) are expended in the data entry process.
> Of course, there is other work APOC does, which is unrelated to the automation of these reports including investigating complaints and providing training.

As you are likely aware, HB 109 has been amended to require APOC to scan in handwritten information so that the public sees it timely. (Sec. 9. AS 15.13.040 is amended by adding a new subsection to read:
(p) Information required by this chapter that is submitted to the commission on paper and not electronically shall be electronically scanned and published on the Internet by the commission, in a format accessible to the general public, within two working days after the commission receives the information.

I hope this information answers your questions and I can provide additional backup if you would like it.

With so much on everyone's plate with AGIA, I would anticipate the need for independent consultants to come in and help us answer the questions on PPT. The public will certainly be waiting to hear where we're going on this issue, as it's becoming clearer the PPT rate may have been adopted via undue pressure from the oil industry.

With my public statements made on revisiting PPT, and the legislators who support (and are calling for) a special session on PPT, we'll need to hustle on strategy re: who we use and when we get them in here to work with DOR, DNR and Law to get to the bottom of PPT, and to consider gross taxes if that's what's best for Alaska.

Thanks Mike. Let's talk soon about this with commissioners.

Governor, thanks for your support, there is a ton of work but fixing the challenges makes the effort worthwhile. The issues below are time sensitive with item 1 needing immediate direction, it will only get worse and items 2 & 3 needing must have final decisions early this week. Also its time to be praying for rain in the Interior.

Next week there are three priorities that DNR must work on and move forward Dick has been working hard on these while Marty and I have been gone. 1) Ag - Director, Mat Maid, farmer's concerns, etc. 2) Kenai River - hydrocarbon levels in the water, 2-cycle engines, 50-hp, hull options, timing so we don't hurt Alaskans. Dick has been coordinating this with DNR, F&G, and DEC and 3) ACMP's position for off shore work that addresses North Slope concerns and provides a path forward for Shell.

Marty, Dick, and I have a conference call planned for Monday on these issues. As we finalize recommended decisions we will need some of your time to discuss and make sure you are up to date. Each decision will upset someone. We just need to do it right.

I will stay in Fairbanks on Monday to attend the funeral service we discussed.

Have a very happy Mother's Day tomorrrow. Tom

Whenever you're ready to start tackling Ag issues (and Mat-Maid), I am.

I know we all have a ton on our plates and I appreciate you squeezing in another "challenge" we have in front of us with Ag.

I'd like to find a director from the Mat-Su Valley, as it seems that's where the focus of Ag is and has been lately.

Franci Havemeister is willing to help where we need her. Don't know if director position is best for her, I'd like you to talk to her and see if you feel she'd fit in any particular role. She's of the Havemeister Dairy Farm family - one of only three left providing milk to MatMaid.

We need to bring new energy into Ag and the BAC board, too. I'll ask Ivy for list of bd members.

We need good business minds to be in there deciding the direction of some aspects of Ag.

Thanks!

Subject: Dinner on Cruise Ship Mercury--May 20

Hello Willow and Bristol. The Palin family is invited to have dinner on the Cruise Ship Mercury on May 20 at 6:00pm. They have also invited you to bring a friend or two with you! I need to supply the birthdays and driver's license numbers (if you have one) of any guests. Picture ID will be needed to board the ship (I hope that doesn't mean Piper!). Please supply this information about your friends to me by Monday if you'd like to invite them. Bristol, I have your b/d but not your driver's license number. Thanks. Kari.

i just called ed rasmussen Privileged or Personal Material Redacted you're right Ivy - Privileged or.

Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

anyway - he's leaving fish bd. in December, I told him I'd start looking for replacement - he said HE'D look for replacement.

said he's doing something with a Health Care group bc our group's mission is "too big", though he didn't let me explain what our group was going to try to accomplish.

Privileged or Personal Material Redacted ... mostly wanted to talk about sport fish needs, as I'd anticipated. wants to talk further with Denby about his issues, as I'd anticipated. next time Denby and I are in Anch together we can try to find some time to meet with Ed.
